Zoom Vacations

New Gay Vacation Provider Offers Alternative to Circuit Scene

Gay men and lesbians seeking fun, safe, meaningful travel experiences have a new with the birth of gay owned, Zoom Vacations. This new outbound tour operator offer luxurious travel packages to gay and lesbian travelers, and their families and friends destinations around the world that offer a great value for the money.

"I realized that with the amount of money spent on a circuit party, one could take a said Zoom Vacations co-founder, Joel Cabrera, "and many people I had met at these same way."

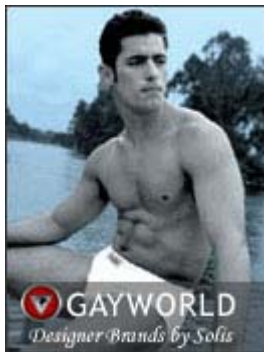

Cabrera and business partner Bill Gudenau saw the need for creating travel experier community that would provide the social aspects of the circuit, but in a more meani way. Zoom was created to address the changing needs of the gay community in the world of travel, said Cabrera.

"As the world becomes a more accepting, embracing place for gay people, I think m finding that we no longer need to huddle in gay ghettos or the gay circuit in order to said Cabrera. "Zoom provides the opportunity for us to travel with our gay friends v comfortable, free, and out." Each tour is researched to ensure that all hotels, restau excursions are gay friendly and safe, he said.

The trips are luxurious while remaining value-driven. One can find several week-lon packages with 4 and 5 star accommodations, including several meals and excursion: $2,000 to destinations such as Australia, Peru, and Costa Rica, and more.

Zoom Vacations differs from many other outbound tour operators in that gay-embr people are encouraged to come along. "Too often, friends and families of gay people from spending time with the gay people in their lives," said Gudenau. "I have many and family members who enrich my life, and my goal is to provide amazing vacatior which all feel comfortable, safe, and at ease. Zoom is for anyone with a modern sen
